

Employment

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 23 September 2010 14:44 -

Employment issues are often overlooked in the realm of corporate governance concerns. Technology transfer agreements need to consider many facets of employment issues which are often overlooked. We have the knowledge, skills, and experience to assist your company in finding its weak areas and threats in its employment concerns and turning them into company strengths and opportunities.